

Research Conducted to Date

The slides below analyze the key message exposure in print media coverage during the closing of USARSA and the opening of WHINSEC, December 1999 to February 2000.

USARSA Closing - Article Frequency
December 1999 – February 2000

USARSA Closing Message Exposure

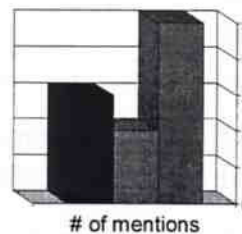

- Every administration since Harry S. Truman and every Congress has supported USARSA's role in the advancement of U.S. foreign policy in Latin America. (#1)
- USARSA has always transmitted the values of the American people and our Army to the militaries of Latin America.
- Every country in the hemisphere, save Cuba, is ruled by a democratically elected civilian government.
- The 61,000 former students of USARSA have reason to be proud of their accomplishments and their legacy in the Americas.
- The United States can be proud of the thousands of U.S. military personnel that served USARSA.

WHINSEC Opening - Article Frequency
December 1999 – February 2000

WHINSEC Opening - Message Exposure

- The Western Hemisphere Institute for Security Cooperation will help to support our nation's foreign policy goals in the Western hemisphere
- The academic environment of WHINSEC will encourage relationships between military and civilian students and faculty, including NGOs dedicated to building stronger societies through constructive interaction and peaceful change.
- WHINSEC will serve a critical role in preparing key civilian and military leaders of Western hemisphere societies for 21st century regional security challenges and in strengthening democracy and protecting human rights

The table below is an analysis of Opinion/Editorial pieces relating to USARSA and/or WHINSEC during the period indicated.
